Victory Cook Book
Navy League Chapter
I.O.D.E.
[October, 1941]

The Navy League Chapter was organized on September 24, 1912, in Victoria, B.C., with the hero of Trafalgar's great watchword "Closer Action" chosen as its motto.

The Chapter has always made the interests of the Navy foremost in its work. During the first Great War a $100.00 Life Membership in the Navy League of Canada was purchased in the Chapter's name, also a Life Membership in the Red Cross.

In 1917 a Children's Fancy Dress Ball was organized during the Christmas season at the Empress Hotel and has been successfully carried on every year since, netting the Chapter approximately $7,000.00 in the twenty-four years. Other activities, such as garden parties, card parties, raffles, etc., have enabled the Chapter to generously contribute to secondary Educational work and maintain its share in all the Order's philanthropic work.

Since the outbreak of the second World War, the Chapter has raised and spent an average of $100.00 a month on war work and it is for this purpose that the members have collected these tested recipes in an endeavour to raise more money.

Our grateful thanks go to all who have contributed to make this book the success we hope for.
A Word of Appreciation

The Navy League Chapter, I.O.D.E., wishes to express their sincere thanks to the women who have contributed the tried and tested recipes contained in this Cook Book, and to the business firms whose advertising made its publication possible. Their loyalty will always be appreciated.

KITCHEN HINTS

To keep sandwiches for any length of time, cream the butter with a little milk. It is more economical, also keeps the sandwiches fresh and moist.

If fruit juice is spilt on the table cloth, sprinkle over immediately with a little corn starch. It nearly always succeeds in removing stain in one application.

Lettuce will not become limp nearly so rapidly if it is stood in a bowl of water containing two or three slices of lemon.

HOW TO REMOVE STAINS

Whenever possible remove stains when fresh to prevent them from setting. Always use cold water to remove stains made by food containing proteins, such as milk, blood, egg or meat juice. Hot water will set these stains. Use hot water for fruit and similar stains, as cold water will set them.

Blood and Meat Juice—Soak in cold or lukewarm water until stains turn light brown. Do not use hot water, as it will set the stains. Then wash in hot water, unless material is silk or wool, in which case use cold or lukewarm water. For blankets apply a thick paste made of raw starch and cold water. Allow the paste to dry and then brush it off. Repeat until all signs of stain are gone.

Fruit and Berry—If stains are fresh, pour on boiling water, from a height of 2 to 3 feet. Repeat, if necessary, and then bleach in the sun. If this is not entirely successful, apply lemon juice to the stain and bleach in the sun.

Grass—If the stains cannot be removed by soap and warm water, apply grain or wood alcohol.

Grease—For washable materials, use warm water and soap. For silk or wool, use clean white blotting paper, a piece on each side of the stain, and iron with a warm iron. For coarse material, use corn meal or salt, brushing off as the corn meal or salt absorbs the grease, and repeating. Chloroform, benzol, naphtha or gasoline may also be used for sponging off grease stains, especially where dirt is mixed with the grease, but these agents must be used with care.

Iodine—Make weak solution (1 tablespoon to 1 pint of water) of baking soda, sal soda (washing soda), or borax. Wash stains in the solution and then rinse in cold water. Iodine stains are ordinarily brown, but on starchy goods are blue.

Ink—Printing ink stains may be removed by rubbing the stain thoroughly with lard, and then washing with soap and warm water. For writing inks, try washing with soap and water first. Then try corn meal or salt or French chalk or talcum powder, brushing off as the ink is absorbed and repeating. If this is not successful, soak the stains in milk for one or two days, changing the milk as it becomes discolored. Or rub the stains with a cut lemon, squeezing on some of the juice and rinsing frequently.
Iron Rust—Rub lemon juice and a little salt on the stains and bleach in the sun. Repeat or add more lemon juice if necessary.

Mildew—Moisten the stains with lemon juice, or soak overnight in sour milk, and bleach in the sun without rinsing. Or dissolve 1 pound of salt in 1 quart of cold water and add 1/4 pound of calcium hypochlorite. Apply with a medicine dropper, and IMMEDIATELY AFTER APPLY Oxalic acid solution and then rinse. The immediate use of Oxalic acid is to neutralize the first mixture and prevent it from harming the material. Repeat if necessary.

Milk or Cream—Use cold water. Do not use hot water, or stains will set. After using cold water, wash with soap and warm water. If material is not washable after using cold water, sponge with chloroform, gasoline or benzol.

Paint—Dip in acetone and squeeze out. Material does not need to be washed of acetone is used, and it will dry very rapidly. If acetone is not available use turpentine or benzol. Then wash with warm water and soap.

Tar, Asphalt or Road Oil—Apply turpentine to the stains and then wash thoroughly with soap and hot water. If this is not successful, use chloroform or benzol and then wash with soap and hot water. Or try rubbing in lard and then washing with soap and hot water.

Tea—if washing with soap and warm water is not successful, apply lemon juice and bleach in the sun. Keep the stains covered with lemon juice during the bleeding.

Varnish—Rub with wood or grain alcohol or ether. Then wash with water and soap.

Cakes
TWO EGG CAKES WITH VARIATIONS

From Cup Cakes to Layer Type, These Baked Delicacies Are Popular Fare

Thick, soft layers of light, velvety goodness, heaped high with creamy fudge or snowy-topped icing spells real cake. One who really enjoys baking is proud of her tempting cakes, and well she may be. For so many cakes look so good but are a real disappointment after the first bite.

A heavy cake will result from any of the following errors, so one must be alert to every detail until so experienced it becomes second nature to bake any one of the butter or sponge cake varieties perfectly. Wrong combinations of flavors, heaviness due to improper baking, too little beating of the batter—not beating enough after each addition of milk and flour—too much shortening, too much sugar, or liquid, or the oven too hot or too slow.

Reasons for Failure

"Why do cakes fall?" asks many a beginner in cookery. Why indeed! This failure may be due to too much shortening; too hot an oven and not sufficient baking and often the cake looks done before it is. Too much sugar will make a cake fall as well as too much liquid, while frequently it is due to insufficient baking powder or soda to leaven the mixture.

Possibly your cake trouble is that the texture is coarse rather than the soft, downy mixture you've eaten and visioned making yourself. If that has been the case in your experience, most times you'll find it has been due to too much leavening (baking powder or soda) and insufficient creaming of the shortening and sugar. These two ingredients should be mixed together until very light and fluffy.

After the cake has turned out beautifully, it has a chance of remaining a perfect creation if the frosting, icing or filling with which it is completed is of the right consistency and carefully put on to the cake. Now, as to just the right amount of batter that goes into the pan before you put it in to bake. Only two-thirds full is our rule for all cakes.

Now for some of the recipes!
TWO-EGG CAKE (With Variations)

½ cup shortening
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs, separated
1¾ cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon salt

2 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup bottled milk or ¼ cup evaporated milk and ¼ cup water
½ teaspoon vanilla extract

Mix the shortening by beating it with a spoon until creamy. Add the sugar gradually, creaming after each addition until mixture is light and fluffy. Beat yolks until thick and lemon-colored; add to shortening mixture and blend thoroughly. Measure sifted flour. Add salt and baking powder and sift again. Add ⅔ of this mixture to shortening mixture while beating; then add ⅔ of milk. Continue adding alternately until all of each is added, beating each time until smooth. Add vanilla. Beat egg whites until they peak, but are not dry. Fold carefully into cake batter by cutting down through mixture and folding it up over the egg whites. Pour batter into a loaf pan 8 x 8 x 2 inches, which has been well greased and lightly floured, or lined with wax paper. Cut through the batter to break any large air bubbles, and be sure corners of pan are filled. Or, turn into 2 greased 8-inch layer-cake pans, or into 2 dozen greased cup-cake pans.

For a loaf cake, bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees F. for 50 or 60 minutes. After removal from oven, set cake on a cake rack about 5 minutes. Then loosen edges, with a spatula, invert on rack, removing pan and turn right side up. To serve two or three, make half this recipe. A layer cake is baked at 375 degrees F. for 25 to 30 minutes; cup cakes are baked at 375 degrees F. for 20 to 30 minutes.

CHOCOLATE TWO-EGG CAKE

Follow recipe for Two-Egg Cake. Melt 2 sq. (2 oz.) unsweetened cooking chocolate over hot water, cool and add to shortening, sugar and egg mixture. Sift ¼ tsp. baking soda with dry ingredients. Use ¾ cup more milk.

NUT CAKE

Follow recipe for Two-Egg Cake, adding 1 cup finely chopped nuts to sifted dry ingredients.

MARBLE CAKE

Follow recipe for Two-Egg Cake, beating the eggs without separating. Divide the batter in halves and to one-half add 1 sq. (1 oz.) unsweetened cooking chocolate melted and 2 tbsps. of milk. Drop spoonfuls of plain and chocolate batter alternately into the greased pan.
