"We are glad, now that we see facts with no veil of false pretence about them, to fight thus for the ultimate peace of the world, for the liberation of its peoples—the German peoples included—the rights of nations great and small, and the privilege of men everywhere to choose their way of life and obedience. The world must be safe."

PRESIDENT WILSON in his Address to CONGRESS, April 2nd, 1917.

"The day of our supreme test is come. This Empire and the great Republic must then be the main guardians of civilization in the future."

DR. PAGE, American Ambassador,
Plymouth, August 4th, 1917,
on the Third Anniversary of the War.
