

A Tribute

Gordon Mackay & COMPANY LIMITED
TORONTO

FOR NEARLY six years we were at war. To many, those years may now seem unreal . . . the years of disaster, discouragement, defeat . . . the unnerving nights of worry . . . the dawns that only brought new anxieties. History will record the role which Canadian men and women played in bringing those grim years to a successful close . . . no duty was too demanding, no sacrifice too great, to preserve Freedom.

Among those gallant Canadians were men and women from Gordon Mackay, who served in all branches of the Armed Forces. Older, and with character-building experience, they have come home, well equipped for worthwhile duties in a peacetime world, and we welcome them back to their civilian tasks.

This booklet expresses our pride in all the Gordon Mackay men and women who served.

W. Wood

PRESIDENT

Roll of Honour

On this and following pages are the photographs and names of Gordon Mackay staff members who served in His Majesty's Navy, Army and Air Force.

There are some who did not come back; their memory will live forever in our hearts.

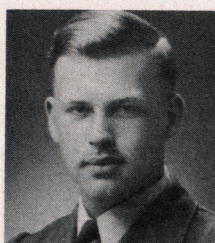

To those who once more take up the tasks of Peace we say "well done." May every success be theirs in the years that are to come.

A Tradition of Service

In World War I, sixty-six Gordon Mackay men served. In World War II, seventy-six men and three women, approximately one-third of this company's present normal staff, carried on the proud tradition. Seven of these, coincidentally, the same number as in World War I, gave their lives.

We have reason for pride in the devotion to duty of Gordon Mackay men and women. The sacrifice of those who fell, and the loyalty of all members who gave their services, either at home or abroad, provide needed inspiration as we strive for a sound and lasting peace.
